Governor of West Virginia

Hulett C. Smith

Defeating Cecil Underwood in November's "Johnson Landslide," Hulett C. Smith of Beckley begins his first year as Governor of West Virginia. A graduate of the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce and a veteran of World War II, Mr. Smith has been highly successful in civic and industrial affairs in Beckley, his home town. In addition, he has distinguished himself in service as state President and national Vice-President of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Chairman of the state Democratic Party, and as head of the state Department of Commerce. Knowing his determination to improve the state's economic and educational systems, West Virginia University welcomes Hulett C. Smith as our twenty-seventh Governor.

Board of Governors

The Board of Governors reflects an unparalleled combination of success within the borders of West Virginia. These state leaders, meeting with the University President several times a year, provide our University with continued direction in educational, administrative, and financial policy formation.

K. Douglas Bowers, Beckley, Raymond E. Salvati, Huntington; Albert B. C. Bray, Logan; Charles C. Wise, Jr., Charleston; University President Paul A Miller; Board President Okey B. Glenn, Williamson; Ralph J. Bean, Moorefield; Forrest H. Kirkpatrick, Wheeling; James H Swadley, Jr., Keyser; and William G. Thompson, Montgomery.

University President

Dr. Paul A. Miller

Now in his third year as University President, Dr. Miller continues his drive to make West Virginia a truly outstanding state university. Revamped curricula, new personnel, higher standards, and expanded areas of activity are the immediate results of his program. The West Virginia campus is a changing one, both in physical appearance and in the outlook of its student body and faculty — significant evidence of Dr. Miller's success to date.

Mortar Board, senior women's honor society, is the only national scholastic honorary for women on the WVU campus. Seeking to develop the highest type of college woman, the honorary strives for the development and encouragement of college leadership and service, a high degree of scholarship, and loyalty and fellowship among university women.

Special projects are the annual sale of Homecoming mums, the presentation of awards to outstanding freshmen and sophomore women, the preparation of a book list for freshmen, and a graduate study program. This year, at the request of the administration, Mortar Board evaluated the honorary system at WVU, and gathered sample attitudes of the college woman in today's society. The members also worked to establish a program for Mortar Board Scholars.

Mountain, ranking men's honorary, was founded in 1904 to foster the Mountaineer spirit and to provide services in building a better school and state. Each spring members are selected on the basis on scholarship, leadership, and service.

Special projects of the honorary are the Mountaineer Week Team, whose members visit state high schools to encourage students to further their education, and the Mountaineer Statue Fund to raise money for a bronze statue of the Mountaineer. Mountain annually selects the Mountaineer, who serves as a living symbol of the University at sports events. Among the social events are the traditional Mush and Milk Banquet and the Homecoming Dance.

To deepen the feeling for the mountaineer tradition, the honorary requires participation in a rigorous mountain hike prior to initiation.

Spokes, the youngest class honorary on the campus, was organized in 1956 to promote spirit and interest among women students and alumni in serving the University community. Each year thirteen senior women are selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and service. These "Spokes" are formally initiated at the Link Day ceremonies with the traditional wheel formation symbolic of the campus "Big Wheel."

Spokes' special projects include the placing of plaques on campus buildings designating the name and construction date and raising money for scholarships through the sale of women's Campus Pacs.

Sphinx, senior men's honorary, acts as the sponsor and preserver of all such college traditions as it may find worthwhile and to serve the University. This honorary, which was organized in 1909, is composed of men possessing high qualities of leadership, character, scholarship, and service. It annually presents the Mother's Day Sing and the Sphinx Talent Show in which Greek and independent groups participate. Sphinx presents the Smith-Coburn Plaque for the highest freshman male average and Certificates of Merit to ten men in the freshman class with the next highest standing. The annual Steak and Champagne Banquet is the main social activity. In the spring of 1962 this organization was accepted as a chapter in the national men's honorary, Blue Key. Dr. Robert Stillwell serves as advisor to this group.

Chimes, junior women's honorary, promotes the cultural and intellectual development of the woman as well as the full development of the individual. Each spring members are chosen on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and service within the University community. This honorary was born in June of 1948 when Rhododendron, the then-existing junior women's honorary, became affiliated with the national honorary, Chimes.

During Freshman Week, Chimes holds a beanie sale and orientation program for freshman women. Other service projects include a party for woman transfer students and a donation to the Chimes Loan Fund which aids woman students in financial need.

In an effort to stimulate the cultural development of its members, Chimes holds discussions with guest speakers and this year traveled to Pittsburgh to see the International Exhibit of Painting and Sculpture and to attend a play.

Order of the Grail

Order of the Grail, the University's newest honorary, was organized in 1961. It is distinguished among the honoraries in that its members are selected solely on the basis of scholarship. The twenty-five men who rank highest scholastically at the end of their third semester at the University are selected as members of this junior men's honorary. Its name is taken from the legend of King Arthur in which the Holy Grail was symbolic of the striving of his knights for greater ideals in conduct. Order of the Grail primarily provides its members with opportunities for intellectual discussion. During the year, several speakers were heard at informal meetings and coffee hours.

Li-Toon-Awa takes its name from the Indian name for friendship, and its members pledge themselves to help freshmen to feel at home on the University Campus.

Special projects include the Tee-Pee Tea for freshman women, the Highbrow Hen Party for coeds with better than 3.0 averages, and the sponsorship of the Freshman Projects Committee. The Helvetians were freedom-loving mountain people who lived in Switzerland in the days of Caesar. Members are chosen at the end of their freshman year on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and service. They serve as full members during their sophomore year.

Special projects of Helvetia include the construction of the mountaineer for Mountaineer Weekend, the distribution of recognition certificates to freshman men academically ranking in the top five percent of their class, and the sponsorship of the Campus Blood Donor Campaign. Helvetia sells Campus Pacs during Freshman Week to raise funds. Each year at the Mother's Day Sing, Helvetia presents the Freshman Scholarship Award to a deserving male student.

Fi Batar Cappar, men's mock honorary, was established on the campus in 1914 and is celebrating its 51st anniversary this year as part of the University community. Members are chosen from campus social leaders and they must undergo a spirited and rigorous pledgeship before initiation. The badge of this organization is a small square of leather which is fastened to the jackets of the members with a piece of brass from the ancient brazen calf.

Special projects include the donation of trophies for the prize-winning Homecoming floats and the presentation of a Minor Sports Trophy to an individual who excels in a minor sport.

The humorous antics of these men in bathrobes succeed in lifting the enthusiasm of the crowd at every thuse and home football game. With their colorful tradition and bold spirit, Fi Batar Capper contributes an undefinable, yet essential part to the student life at West Virginia University.

Student Government

Blane Michael, Student Body Pres. and Mary Anne Eckert, Student Body V-Pres.

Student government, like any other part of a complex university, must keep up with the times and change to meet newly arising needs if it is to survive. Student Government here at West Virginia University is going through fundamental change. This change is one which can be termed "movement from social to educational." With respect to this change, Student Government is attempting to promote activities that may be termed co-curricular, rather than extra-curricular. A good example of this is the mock Republican convention which was held in the Mountainlair last spring under the auspices of Student Government's National Awareness Committee.

Greater emphasis is also being placed upon Student Government's representative role so that the wants and needs of students can be better determined. The Vice-President's Council and Legislative office hours were set up to facilitate matters in this area. Greater use has also been made of the Academic Study Committee as a means by which students' problems in the area of academics can be presented to the administration.

Student Government is also proud of the fact that many organizations this year have taken a great interest in several campus activities. A good example of this is the tremendous amount of work some twenty organizations did in connection with the planning of Homecoming Weekend.

A close working relationship has also been developed with the Office of Student Affairs. The primary interest of both Student Government and the Office of Student Affairs is with the student and they work together so that the student can be adequately represented.

As one views Student Government in retrospect over the past several years, we find a historic philosophy emerging.

After a year of evaluation in 1963, the Kallam administration pinpointed ten broad areas of concern. These ranged from "poor communication" to "insufficient cooperation" between faculty, staff, and students.

Realizing that "academics" is the primary reason for college participation, the Michael administration has attempted to visualize "needs," rather than "tradition." The commendable results of the 1963 study were implemented into major programs this year, thus creating a transference from one administration to another. A Vice-President's Council was initiated as an intro-communication media for student organizations. Our Legislature now realizes the need to stimulate debate, resolve conflict, and trigger cooperation. Faculty, staff, and student discussions serve as a source of exchange and intellectual review.

If student government is to succeed, it must be of service to its peer, rather than play the role of a political enthusiast. Our campus leaders must cease to mobilize old anxieties in new learning environments. Student administrators can assist in providing the necessary out-of-classroom atmosphere to prepare students to meet the pace, quality pressures, and challenges of life. Verbalizations are not enough; experience must be gained through purposeful, practical participation which serves as a basis for subsequent change. The synchronization of educational skills and student activities is fundamental.

West Virginia University Student Legislature.

Nancy Swing, First Woman Speaker.

"What does Student Legislature do?" This is a question which has been asked at West Virginia University for some time. The 1964-65 Legislature has provided some definite answers.

First, Student Legislature is concerned with serving the student, as evinced by the investigation of the Bookstore which arose out of students' protests against that establishment. The investigation disclosed not malpractice, but lack of communication, and Student Legislature passed a bill authorizing the Speaker to appoint a student representative to meet with Bookstore officials to answer this need.

Second, the Legislature considers the improvement of the academic sphere as one of its responsibilities. Bill #4 set up a research fund for the faculty of the College of Arts & Sciences, and Bill #3 established a means by which nationally prominent men in professional and technical fields can be brought to the campus.

Third, the Legislature is one of the three branches of Student Government. With the idea that this is an active, as opposed to a passive function, Student Legislature undertook a progressive revision of the Student Body Constitution and the formulation of a statutory code as its supplement.

The administrative year 1964-65 has seen a Legislature with purpose, a Legislature that dared to consider controversial matters like the rule forbidding women in men's residences, a Legislature with the courage to look honestly at Student Government and to try to strengthen it where weak, improve it where strong. This Legislature has been a creative, vital body, providing new direction for those that follow.

Every woman enrolled at WVU is a member of Associated Women Students. This organization is composed of three representative boards. The Judiciary Board, in cooperation with the Dean of Women's Office, governs policies for women on campus. Sorority House Presidents' Council is an idea exchange center for house and judicial problems, under Judiciary Board. The Council previously was part of Residence Co-ordinating Council (RCC) and it became separate from RCC this year because it was recognized that living units smaller than dormitories require less complicated rules. The Program Board plans programs for women students with the aim of offering each individual opportunities to develop socially, culturally, intellectually, and spiritually, and thus increasing her role as an educated and competent woman. Each year representatives and officers are elected by the women on campus.

AWS of West Virginia University is a member of IAWS (Intercollegiate Association of Women Students) which is an organization composed of women's governing units from more than 150 colleges and universities throughout the U.S.

The staff, under the leadership of Editor Ellen Major, has recorded almost every phase of campus life and activities in the pages of the book. An added feature this year is a section of special introductory photography by Irving Lloyd.

The planning of the book is begun one year in advance with the selection of the various section editors and staff members and with the planning of the layout and material Throughout the year, the staff writes and edits, proofreads and rewrites, and anxiously anticipates that final distribution day.

Each semester the MONTICOLA presents tuition scholarships to students whose academic records and services to the University merit recognition. An additional activity is the Miss Monticola Pageant at which time Miss Carolyn Smith was chosen as Queen of the 1965 book.

Arnold Air Society, established in 1950, is a professional, military, and service honorary open to all Air Force ROTC cadets who have maintained a certain grade point average—both in academic and in Air Science courses. This organization "aids in the development and production of Air Force officers, furthers the purpose, traditions, and concepts of the U. S. Air Force, and supports Aerospace power and its role in national security." The group also volunteers its services for projects benefiting the University or community.

This year Arnold Air Society raised the flag at home football games, participated in the crowning of the Homecoming Queen, held car washes, supported the Jim Willets Fund and World University Service, organized "Operation Santa Claus," and entered in the Sphinx Talent Show. Members of the corps march in drill formations, do clerical work, and help co-ordinate the Aero-Space Ball. This year as a special service project, members of Angel Flight collected and distributed clothing to needy families in the Morgantown area. Various social functions were held throughout the year in conjunction with Arnold Air Society.

Army ROTC Sponsors

Traditionally, the advanced ROTC Companies at West Virginia University each select one co-ed to represent their group as a ROTC Sponsor in various parades and drills during the school year. These sponsors help their companies at various military functions and participate in Greater West Virginia Weekend ceremonies. From this group of sponsors the queen of the Military Ball is chosen and all the girls reign over the "half-time" ceremonies at the dance.

Chosen on the basis of leadership and beauty, the ROTC sponsors add charm and dignity to every phase of military life on the West Virgina campus.

As in all national and international organizations, each political party on this campus must adopt for itself certain goals in order to formulate its policies. Naturally, a primary goal must be the selection of party candidates and their election to offices in Student Government. Student Party represents both independent and affiliated students and attempts to achieve a political system which will compliment our present educational system.

Other goals are the development of leadership, practical political experience, exercise in decision-making, and development of individual initiative.

Activities in 1964-65 include Studettes, the publicity organization for the Student Party, and the Student Party Sammy — creative work on the part of the members. The Student Party is all-encompassing of WVU students and they are looking forward to another successful year.

All-Campus Party

The All-Campus Party was founded in the spring of 1963 after the demise of the Mountaineer Party. In its first election of March, 1964, the A-CP won a sweeping victory, upsetting the Student Party for the first time in many years. The A-CP differs from other parties on the WVU campus in that its purposes are academically oriented. It encourages and promotes many activities and services designed to assist the student in acquiring his education. A-CP is also interested in promoting programs for financial aid to needy students. Legislative programs sponsored by the Party include programs of nationally known speakers, research grants to professors from student contributions, and an investigation of Dor-may transportation problem. The independent membership reached 500 this year, marking the highest number of independents in a political party at WVU. They are represented by living units in the A-CP Delegate Council.

Since its organization on the WVU campus in 1956, the members have planned and promoted recreational services for the University, community, county, and state. During the year, they sponsor workshops on the University campus. Annual outings, ski trips, and a banquet are included in the group's social activities.

Amateur Radio Club

In their fifth year on the WVU campus, the Amateur Radio Club owns a complete radio station capable of sending and receiving messages throughout the world. The station is located in the Engineering Sciences Building. The main purposes of the organization are to stimulate interest in amateur radio, to help newcomers to increase their knowledge of electronics and to receive their licenses, and to advance the state of amateur radio.

Orchesis functions as an extension of modern dance classes. The only requirement for membership is one semester of elementary dance. Tryouts are held three times a year; new members are selected on the basis of their ability, interest, and originality.

Under the direction of Mrs. Mary Kay Wiedebusch, Orchesis members choreograph and prepare their annual production given in Reynolds Hall each spring. The professional sorority came to the WVU campus in 1960. Each spring the members prepare and present Easter favors to children in the University Hospital. Highlights of their social calendar are the initiation banquet and the reception for incoming pharmacy women students. Miss Helen Pavlech sponsors the group.

Since then, the men have endeavored to fulfill the purposes of the honorary which are to promote pharmacy and to conduct a fraternal organization for the mutual benefit of its members. Each year the group recognizes the junior pharmaceutical student with the highest academic average with a plaque engraved with his name and placed in the Dean's office. The Asklepois Key is the senior award.

American Pharmaceutical Association

The student branch of the American Pharmaceutical Association has as its purpose to increase the students' awareness of the opportunities and values which accompany their profession. Organized at WVU in 1948, the group has since worked to fulfill the obligations of its purpose. The members visit a manufacturer of pharmaceuticals to inspect both the operating and research facilities in order to gain more insight into the career of the pharmacist. The organization sponsors a reception for new pharmacy students in the fall of each year. The group also participates in the National Pharmacy Week. A picnic in May brings to an end the year's activities.

Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism honorary, was founded on the WVU campus in 1947. Its purposes are to encourage journalistic efforts on campus, to help its members become better acquainted with prominent women of the literary world, and to keep its members informed of opportunities in journalism. Awards are presented every year to the best woman reporter and the runner-up on the Daily Athenaeum staff. The Mast-head Award is presented annually to a pronent woman journalist in the state. Theta Sigma Phi sponsors a banquet each year in co-operation with Sigma Delta Chi. The honorary's advisor is Mr. James Young.

Sigma Delta Chi

The members of Sigma Delta Chi meet monthly with their advisor, Professor Paul Atkins, to plan projects, such as selling programs at home basketball games, and to listen to guest lecturers speak on various aspects of journalism. The purposes of Sigma Delta Chi, men's journalism honorary, are to assist its members in acquiring the principles of journalism and to encourage high ethical standards for the press. The Chapter arranges for speakers and discussion groups with professionals as well as trips to advertising agencies and newspaper plants.

Eta Kappa Nu

The Beta Rho Chapter of Eta Kappa Nu, national electrical engineering honorary, has as its goal two primary objectives. The first is to recognize those students who, by their outstanding scholarship, character, and service, have brought honor to WVU and to the electrical engineering profession. The second is to encourage the professional growth of its members and all those people connected with the Department of Electrical Engineering. Eta Kappa Nu is the only engineering honorary on this campus to sponsor a loan fund for any engineering student. During Greater W. Va. Weekend, the group puts up displays and conducts tours through the Engineering Building.

Its purposes are to foster the high ideal of the engineering profession, to stimulate interest in coordinate departmental activities, to promote the mutual professional welfare of its members, and to develop in the students of mechanical engineering the attributes necessary for effective leadership and responsible citizenship.

Annually, a mechanical engineering handbook is given to the outstanding junior in mechanical engineering, and a certificate is presented to the freshman in this field having the highest academic average. Juniors and seniors with an over-all average of 3.0 or better are eligible for Sigma Tau Sigma, the national student tutoring society. Ever since its organization on the WVU campus in the spring of 1959, the group of over 100 members has supplied tutors to students desiring help in any University course. Four tutoring periods are offered each semester with six hours of instruction for the student per period. Annually, Sigma Tau Sigma sponsors a "Book of the Year" which all students are encouraged to read. The $1.00 fee which the organization charges for their tutoring sessions goes to a scholarship fund. This year the money was given to the National Defense Loans. Dr. Donald Horvath is the advisor to the group.

Inter-fraternity Chaplain's Council

The Inter-fraternity Chaplain's Council strives to promote Christianity on campus. The members are chosen on the basis of high moral conduct and they are urged to further this ideal in their own fraternal groups. The Council's most important project is the underprivileged children's Christmas party. The sororities and fraternities entertain youngsters from the surrounding areas of Morgantown with dinner, presents, and merriment. Through this project, the Greeks of WVU truly help the people of the Morgantown area.

Every member receives the NEA Journal and the WVEA publication regularly. During the state conference at Jackson's Mill this year, Buena Mitchell, a WVU member, was elected State Vice-President. Socially, the members enjoy a Christmas party and the installation banquet in the spring. Advisor for the organization is Dr. Benjamin Bailey

Mu Phi Epsilon

Recognition of scholarship and service for others through the advancement of music are the aims of Mu Phi Epsilon, national music sorority. Since its organization on the West Virginia University campus in 1950, the Epsilon Mu chapter has awarded a $100 scholarship to a deserving student attending a summer music camp. Two musical concerts during the year and the annual Founders' Day program are among the group's special activities. Mrs. Ruth Drucker is the advisor for the sorority.

Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia

Since its organization at WVU in 1950, Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia Fraternity of America has served to promote a higher degree of music appreciation among its members. Some of the group's activities include presenting its well-known Jazz Concert and ushering at the School of Music recitals. Social events include the annual "Smoker" for freshman men and the spring picnic.

Phi Upsilon Omicron

The Lambda Chapter of Phi Upsilon Omicron was founded at WVU in 1923. The purposes of this honorary fraternity are to establish and strengthen the bonds of friendship, to promote moral and intellectual development of members, and to advance and promote the field of home economics. Members are selected on the basis of scholarship, professional attitudes, and qualities of leadership. This year the professional works project was the "Interpretation of Home Economics." During semester break, members spoke at their respective high schools, discussing with the students the merits of studying home economics in college. Each May, seniors are honored at a Rose Breakfast. The chapter co-operates with the Lambda Alumnae Chapter in observing Founders' Day and in awarding a scholarship to a deserving home economics freshman.

The Chapter aims to provide for the professional development of college home economics students by promoting professional attitudes and a public understanding of the field of home economics. This past Christmas, the members sold UNICEF Christmas cards and made approximately $300 for that organization. Throughout the year, the Chapter presents programs to their members which help to provide them with a better understanding of their profession.

University 4-H Club

The University 4-H Club, established at West Virginia University in 1926 as an extension of the 4-H movement into higher education, is based upon the motto, "To make the best better." Keeping this in mind, each individual strives to become a person whose development is balanced in the phases of life represented by head, heart, hands, and health. The club sponsors the Scott's Run 4-H Club, provides tours and entertainment to visiting students through the School Host Program, and holds a Christmas party for children. The club is sponsored by the State 4-H Club Staff of the Cooperative Extension Service.

Udell, the band executed field formations, supplemented by commentary, for the entertainment of Mountaineer fans during half-time activities. Besides performing at thuses and marching in the Homecoming Parade, the group this year journeyed to Atlantic City where they displayed their outstanding spirit, color, and pageantry at the Liberty Bowl game. The enthusiasm and spirit of the group is reflected in the remarkable fact that over half of its members are not music majors.

The Varsity Club is organized to provide a brotherhood for athletes from all campus intercollegiate sports. The only requirement for membership is the winning of a letter in a varsity sport. The highlight of the year's program is the annual "All Sports Banquet" in the spring of each year. At this banquet the coveted "Man of the Year" award is presented, and scholarships are awarded to deserving athletes not attending school on a grant. A well-known personality speaks at each banquet. Those speakers of the past were President Paul Miller, Dave Tork, and Rod Hundley. Another aspect of the Varsity Club program is to serve as a liason between the athlete and the student.

Hillel

Hillel Foundation, an organization for Jewish students, emphasizes the religious and cultural aspects of the Jewish faith and encourages participation in campus, as well as Hillel activities. These activities include intracultural events, dances, and discussion groups. Hillel was founded at West Virginia University in 1928. Its present director is Rabbi Herbert J. Wilner.

The Disciple Student Fellowship provides a program for students belonging to the Christian Church. The Fellowship was established in order to encourage each student to closely examine the purpose and scope of the Christian way of life and to apply his knowledge of God and the teachings of the Bible to his own personal life. The meetings of the group, which take place every Sunday evening, are designed to provide both Christian fellowship and a means through which college students may express their religious views. The Fellowship offers various recreational functions, each having a religious emphasis which augments the student's mental, social, and spiritual growth. Included among these are the Thanksgiving Communion Service, the Christmas Cantata, an annual spiritual retreat, and a spaghetti dinner.

Sigma Theta Epsilon

Sigma Theta Epsilon, the national Methodist fraternity for college men, was established on this campus in 1939. The primary goals of the fraternity are preparation in the art of living by Christian ideals and promoting fellowship for all men of Methodist preference. The members are taught to apply the ideals of Christian honor and character to their lives through private worship. A special project of the group is lay-preaching activities in area churches. Wesley Foundation, the center of the group's activities, is the scene for the Wednesday evening meetings, parties, and the annual pledge-active banquet. Stanley Farr is the group's sponsor.

Among the various service projects conducted by the 200 members are a Christmas party for underprivileged children and a drive to collect toys for a nearby orphanage. Some of their social activities include a Christmas party, pizza parties, and hayrides. The Newman Club is under the direction of Father Stanley MacNevin.

The aim of the club is "every Methodist woman in the University world a growing Christian and an active participant in the church of today and tomorrow."

With the motto of "others" and the slogan of "I'd love to,'" Pi Chapter has many service projects. They visit and give parties for the residents of Sundale Rest Home, babysit at Wesley Church, direct youth groups at Scott's Run Settlement House, and sponsor an Easter Sunrise Service for the student body. For their special projects this year, Kappa Phi furnished the campus's International House with a book case and magazine subscriptions and at Christmas time, they collected clothing, toys, and food for needy families in this community.

They meet twice a month under the guidance of their sponsor, Mrs. Quintus Wilson, and associate sponsor, Miss Mary Ann Loar. Their social events included pledging and an outing to Cooper's Rocks in October, an initiation banquet in February, a spring banquet with Sigma Theta Epsilon, a week end with the Alpha Sigma chapter of Kappa Phi at West Virginia Wesleyan College. Y.W.C.A.

The Young Women's Christian Association is the largest voluntary women's group on campus. Its members are divided into fifteen committees, with the chairmen of these committees and the officers making up the Cabinet, the ruling body of the "Y." The officers, Publicity Coordinator, Service Coordinator, and the Membership Coordinator make up the Executive Committee. "Exec" meets weekly and the Cabinet meets bi-monthly to evaluate and discuss the operation of the Y.

The Y has a committee for every interest. The Arts, Music, and Worship Committees revolve around the fine arts. The various service committees provide service to the campus and to the community. The Publicity Committee combines art work and journalism to publicize the weekly meetings of the Y. Finance, Social and Fellowship and Membership Committees do the work needed within the organization. The Y also puts out a newsletter which is sent to members.

Y members have the opportunity to go, on a cultural trip to Pittsburgh in December and to attend the regional Y conference in the spring. In addition the YWCA, through its national organization, sponsors seminars in Asia, Europe and South America. Several members from the W.V.U.-YW have gone overseas to participate in these travel-study seminars. At least two retreats are planned for Y Cabinet each year.

Making plans for a big season: 7-4 mark.

Mountaineers Break Even In First Six Contests

The West Virginia season was divided into two parts. In the first half, the Mountaineers failed to generate an offense. Then a sudden strike against big Southern Conference rival Virginia Tech ended a 12-quarter scoring drought, enlivened the team's spirit and confidence and sent them winging toward the Liberty Bowl. The game-by-game summary follows:

WVU 20, Richmond 10 (away, night)

The Mountaineers struck quickly, and possibly the shock waves cost the ambitious Spiders a 3-7 season. Eddie Pastilong, the incumbent at quarterback completed a 60-yard pass play to Homer Criddle on the third play and he set up two other touchdowns with passes to Bob Dunlevy. The victory, however, cost the Mountaineers a season's service from two-year tailback Tom Yeater and all-around kicking specialist Chuck Kinder.

WVU 7, The Citadel 3 (home)

A touchdown march the first time they got the ball stood up for a victory. Coach Gene Corum, "we were fortunate to win."

Rice 24, WVU 0 (away, night)

While Rice cashed four of its five scoring opportunities, West Virginia failed all four times in scoring position.

Pitt 14, WVU 0 (away)

Once again, an offense with no punch negated grudging defensive play. The Mountaineers penetrated no farther than the 40-yard line of their most traditional opponent.

WVU 23, Virginia Tech 10 (away)

This game, on the home field of the chief pretender to their Southern Conference monarchy, made the 1964 Mountaineers a football team. Following Allen McCune's 53-yard bomb to Homer Criddle (who later broke his clavicle), West Virginia came from behind with two last-period touchdowns. McCune completed all six of his passes, two for touchdowns.

Mountaineer pass defense comes through.

Enlivened Offense Sparks Last Four Wins

Time out for water.

Penn State 37, WVU 8 (Homecoming)

The sleeping giant awoke in this one, crumbled the proud Mountaineer defense, recovered four fumbles and cleared a path for Bob Riggle to gain 173 yards rushing.

WVU 26, Kentucky 21 (home)

Allen McCune accounted for every point as the Mountaineers made a 26-7 lead hold up under Kentucky's late surge. As soon as the Mountaineers recovered a fumble, he tossed a 24-yard scoring strike to Dick Madison. He fired an eight-yard TD to Milt Clegg, hit Bob Dunlevy for the two points, hit him for a 24-yard TD on fourth down and sneaked for the hosts' fourth touchdown at the outset of the second half. Kentucky beat Mississippi, Auburn, and Tennessee.

Tailback Doug Stanley.

Shrine game and Hula Bowl star, end Milt Clegg.

WVU 20, George Washington 19 (away)

A pair of botched two-point tries cost the insurgent Colonials an upset to go with those over Villanova (6-2) and Cincinnati (8-2). Dick Madison sprinted 67 yards to score and caught a 51-yard pass from McCune to set up another, while Dick Leftridge and John Piscorik punched across the other two touchdowns. Two out of three extra point kicks by Doug Stanley made the difference. Sophomore Garry Lyle sensationally ran 70 yards and squirmed out of a headlock to complete a 64-yard pass play, but he also fumbled twice on conversion attempts.

WVU 24, William and Mary 14 (home)

Doug Stanley's 32-yard field goal, first of the season, cracked a 14-14 tie in the fourth period and McCune and Madison wrapped it up with a 36-yard pass connection.

Mountaineer Defense.

WVU 28, Syracuse 27 (home)

This may go down as the greatest game in Mountaineer Field's 42-year history. The Mountaineers scored on their first possession, with McCune accounting for all 48 yards, but the nearly irresistible combination of Jim Nance and Floyd Little got Syracuse a half-time lead of 21-6. West Virginia drove 80 yards with the second-half kickoff (65 on McCune's plays) and when Syracuse was offside on the conversion attempt, John Piscorik powered 1½ yards for a large two points. An interception by linebacker Jim Mazzella got the ball for a 65-yard drive (57 by McCune's passes). Dick Leftridge plunged the last yard and Doug Stanley kicked the point to put the Mountaineers ahead, 22-21 early in the last period, but Syracuse wasn't finished. Nance bulled most of the way on a 75-yard march, but Wally Mahle's pass to Little was out of the end zone and the Orange led 27-22. With 6:06 to play, and the ball at midfield, Dunlevy sprinted clear, fingered McCune's pass at the 28, and waltzed into the end zone for the game-breaker. McCune completed 13 of 17 for 245 yards and accounted for three TDs. Milt Clegg caught eight passes for a West Virginia record. Nance rushed for 163 yards.

Hit him harder, team.

Looking forward to next season.

The 1964-65 season will be remembered for the team that made the best comeback in Mountaineer basketball annals. After playing an 11-4 schedule the team reorganized to win the Southern Conference tournament in overtime and double overtime and to maintain a tradition of nine titles in 11 years. Only by running into fourth-ranked Providence in the NCAA Tournament were they denied a 21st consecutive winning season. The Mountaineers went a long way without the speed and quickness which used to characterize West Virginia teams. They triumphed, almost magically, in four closing games with a hot-shouting lineup that connected on 56 percent, but it was with the same lineup that they managed only 38 percent against Providence.

Six seniors bowed out this season. They were captain Bob Camp, who led the Mountaineers in all but one major statistic, Buddy Quertinmont, Bill Maphis, Marty Lentz, Ricky Ray, and student volunteer Larry Lako. Camp averaged 15.9 points and 9.8 rebounds per game, made 80.6 percent on free throws, and gave 73 assists. Quertinmont, who was second in scoring with a 14.5 average, shot 47.8 percent to edge Camp and junior John Lesher. Maphis bowed out with a 13.3 point mark and Lentz, 7.2. Ray missed 19 games because of a broken ankle, but he hit for 6.8 points in 10 contests. Lako performed in six games. Camp finished as the fourth best free-thrower in Mountaineer history with a 79.5 career percentage.

Captain-elect Bob Camp strains for two points.

Before the last regular season game, the Mountaineers wallowed in a six-game losing streak and showed a 10-14 record when suddenly, they changed their world and gave several hundred thousand West Virginians a happy glow. Injuries had wiped out three guards, a trouble-spot position anyway. Coach George King then switched 6-5 junior John Lesher to guard, gave 6-7 senior Marty Lentz a starting shot as a farewell gesture, and he watched in amazement as the Mountaineers buried Virginia Tech, 127 to 73. On the basis of this game, King said his team would go all the way in the Southern Conference Tournament. "When we read this in the press," said Bob Camp, "we believed it, too!"

Time-out for a briefing from Coach King.

One, two, three, four, FIVE hands?

The Mountaineers soared past George Washington, 94-83, after leading by 25 points at half. Camp, a gangling 6-8 set shot artist and the "glue" that holds the team together, laid in 26 points. He made nine consecutive shots from outside. In the semi-finals they upset Davidson, 74-72 in overtime, ending a 23-game winning streak and an American sports saga. Lesher scored 26 points. The conference title game was another nail-biter. West Virginia rallied to tie a precisely disciplined William and Mary team, stayed alive in the first overtime when Bill Maphis drove the length of the court, past three defenders, and laid up the tying goal with three seconds left. Camp scored five points in the second extra period to spark a 70-67 victory.

While the University's baseball team ended the season on a disappointing note in the NCAA playoffs, the 1964 squad will go down in the record books as one of the all-time best. The Mountaineers won their fourth consecutive Southern Conference championship and established many new records in the process. In winning 24 games and losing only five, Coach Steve Harrick's nine tied the 1908 mark for the second best in history. Centerfielder Bill Marovic, who became the first WVU player to make the All-American first team, led the team in almost every department. He set a new SC mark for total hits and stolen bases and batted .404. Southpaw John Radosevich set two records en route to his 9-2 season mark — a SC record low ERA of 1.00 and a team strikeout mark of 123. Both players return for the 1965 campaign. First baseman Steve Berzansky became the second highest career batter with a .350 average. Berzansky was selected to the all-conference first team for the second year, while Marovic and Radosevich were unanimous choices to the select team. Team captain, shortstop Dale Ramsburg was chosen on the second team. In an automobile accident during the season, reserve first baseman Jim Willetts was paralyzed from the waist down.

Wrestling

Coach Steve Harrick's wrestling squad won the Southern Conference championship for the second straight season. Senior Jerry Gooden and sophomore Mike George won SC championships in the 157-pound and heavy weight divisions, respectively. Runners-up included Don Check (123), Bill Meacci (130) Bart Biondolillo (167), and John Luckini (177). Captain Jim Jioio became the "winningest" grappler in Mountaineer history with a career mark of 39-8-2. The previous high 3-year record was 36 wins by Tom Westfall. The season's record was 9-3-1.

Gymnastics

Jerry Spencer led the University gymnasts for the third consecutive year and he qualified for the NCAA meet in parallel bars competition. The all-around senior captain led a 6–2 record team to the Southern Division championship – one of eight national divisions. Coach Bill Bonsall expects promising freshman Eddie Cross to take over where Spencer left off.

Rifle

The defending national rifle champions could place no better than third in the Southern Conference and they ranked fifth among 25 teams entered in their NRS sectional meet. However, hope for the future was shown as the University's freshman rifle team won the sectional event. Jerry Luh, Nick Conger, Andy Holoubek, and coed Trish Kinsella comprise the frosh group. All-Americans Jack Writer and captain Dean Bahrman led the 11-3 varsity squad with 294 averages.

KNEELING: Bill Gifford, Capt. Dean Bahrman, Jack Writer, Ralph Baker. STANDING: Jim Exline, Gary Cunningham, Coach M/Sgt. Francis Orchard, Steve Miller, Charles Pyles.

Swimming

SEATED: Bernie Marcinek, Co-capt. Phil Minnes and Ray Brace, George Zutzman. STANDING: Coach Jack Lowder, George Hazlett, Gene Reiff, Dave Meiser, Bette Hushla, Manager Joe Prete.

A hastle with the Southern Conference over the eligibility of coed team member, Bette Hushla, was the high point of a 3-10 swimming season record. Miss Hushla competed in regular season meets, but she did not swim in the SC meet (WVU finished last) because of a SC ruling. A lack of numbers again plagued the squad, but a bright future is anticipated since all the team, including top scorers Phil Minnes, Ray Brace, and Gene Reiff, return along with eight promising freshmen.

Golf

KNEELING: Ron Rumora, Jim Smith, Paul Russell, Dave Spannbauer. STANDING: Coach Charley Hockenberry, Rudy Marshalek, Jim Goodwin, Larry Christian. Absent: Mac Copeland.

The Mountaineer linksmen split even in 12 matches in 1964 and placed fourth in the annual Southern Conference Tournament. With victories over Pitt three times, Fairmont twice, and George Washington once, Coach Charley Hockenberry's team again won at least half their matches. With medalist honors for the season, sophomore Dave Spannbauer won seven matches while dropping three and tieing two. Spannbauer shot an average 77.1 strokes per match. Other lettermen and their records were: Jim Goodwin (7-5), Ron Rumora (5-4-3), Larry Christian (5-6-1), Paul Russell (5-7), Rudy Marshalek (3-5), and Mac Copeland (2-6).

Tennis

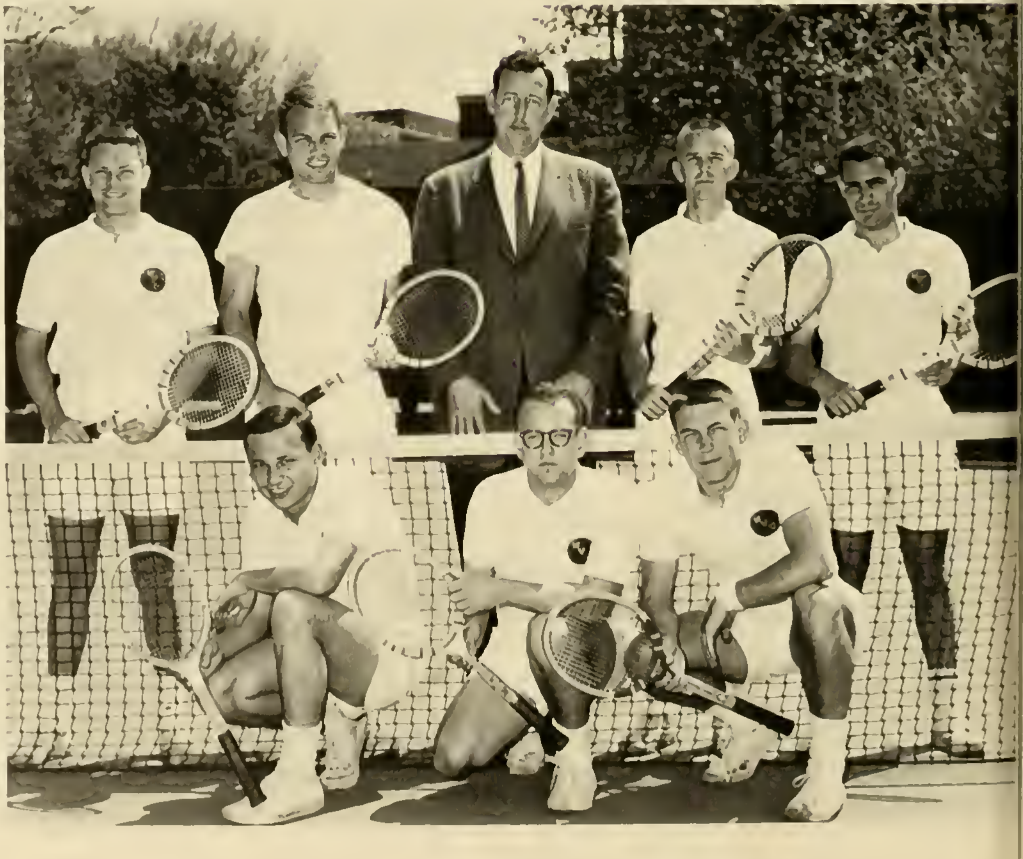
Coach Ruel Foster's tennis squad recorded a 7-3 mark for the 1964 campaign, but the team figures to do better in 1965. Of eight lettermen, six returned and several newcomers gave hope for better things to come. The Mountaineers placed sixth in the Southern Conference Tournament after defeating Fairmont and Pitt twice, Davis and Elkins, California (Pa.), and Frostburg in the regular season. The netters lost to Penn State, George Washington, and VMI. Captain Byron Kallam and Chuck Bibbee graduated, but Jay Fast, Arnold Abrons, Mike Moore, Jim Parker, Ed Balog, John Heffner, and Doug Huff return with newcomers Eddie Ray and Tim Foster adding depth.



ROW 1: Frank Guenther, John Cambell, Mark Lusch, Burdell Chapman, Jerry Moore, Phil Edwards, Don Sweeney, Ed Zuraw, Ed Fiertz, Frank Gasper, Ralph Morrisey, and Dave Huff. ROW 2: Asst. Track

Winning the Southern Conference championship, establishing seven records, defeating Pitt for the first time since 1933, and compiling the best won-lost record in 12 years were the highlights of the Mountaineers' 1964 track and field season. The conference title was the first for University track and was achieved largely by sophomores who gained nearly three-fourths of the team's total points. Of 25 lettermen, 18 were in their second year. Sophomores also led the assault on the record book as six varsity records were set and a stadium mark broken. Jim Karwoski put the shot 53 feet 2 inches. Steve Stahovic threw the javelin 204 feet 8-½ inches and he also set a new SC record with a throw of 203 feet 5-½ inches. Maurice Moon high-jumped 6 feet 3-¾ inches and he was a member of the 440-yard relay team that established the record of :43.1 which also set a new SC mark. The other members of the relay team were Henry Armstrong, the team's top point producer with 90 points, Carl Bowman, and John Campbell. Senior Phil Edwards set a new stadium record in the triple jump with 46 feet, ¼ inch. Top distance runners, Don Sweeney and Roger Meador, set new marks in the two-and three-mile events, respectively. The only defeat handed Coach Stan Romanoski's team was by Pitt in a triangular meet with Syracuse.

Cross Country

The University suffered its first losing cross country season under Coach Stan Romanoski as it finished with a record of 2-5. Romanoski pointed out, however, that all five conquerors of the Mountaineers were having their best years on record. For the second consecutive year, the Mountaineers finished second in the conference championship meet to William and Mary.

Team captain Don Sweeney and Howard Jackson headed the letter winners. Sweeney was the top runner for the Mountaineers in all of their meets and he placed second in the Southern Conference championships at Davidson, N.C. Jackson finished third in the championship meet. The other six lettermen were Ed Fiertz, Ralph Morrisey, Gary Cameron, Dave Huff, Hank Sierka, and Dick Mull.

Soccer

Outstanding wins over Ohio State and Frostburg aided the University soccer team en route to an 8-2 season record. The other six wins were over West Virginia Westleyan and Davis and Elkins twice, Fairmont, and St. Francis. The defeats were to Pitt and Slippery Rock. Center-forward Oskar Schroeder led the booters' scoring with eight goals, two more than center-halfback Butch Rossi, a co-captain. The Mountaineers scored 28 goals to 12 for the opposition. Others who scored were: Jay Fast (4), Tom Breit (3), co-captain Mike Cicci and Jacob Ilkiuyoni (2) and one each by Ed Zuraw, Frank Guenther, and Frank Jernejcic. While speaking of praise for the entire team, Coach Sam Maurice singled out three players for their outstanding contribution. "Rossi was the most valuable player and goalie Charlie Toth was outstanding," said Maurice. "Schroeder was the most improved." Nineteen players were recipients of letters.

Intramurals

Intramurals serve a definite purpose on the West Virginia University campus by giving all students the opportunity to participate in sports on a competitive basis. Samuel Maurice is director of the Intramural Activities Program and he is constantly expanding the number of competitive sports. Interest has risen to the point that over 50% of the student body now participates in intramural activities and each year the number of students who participate increases.

Freshman Football

Practically all University varsity sports are represented on the freshman level, but not all of them play a regular schedule with other first-year teams. Football and basketball plebe teams are on a competitive basis with other institutions and wrestling, baseball, gymnastics, track, swimming, and cross country teams compete when matches can be arranged during the season.

The freshman footballers, coached by Ed Shockey, finished with a 1 win, 1 loss, 1 tie ledger. Three more points and it would have been a 3-0 mark for the plebes. They nipped Penn State 7-6, were edged by Pitt 8-7, and tied Ohio University 12-12. Fullback Garrett Ford rushed for 184 yards, caught four passes, and scored one touchdown. Marine veteran John Michael intercepted five passes and returned one punt for 50 yards from his defensive safety position. Other outstanding players were halfback Dave Larella, quarterback George Schollenberger, end Gary Young, guard Richie Rodes, and linebacker George Begalla.

New coaches Galen Hall, Bob Patton, and Ralph Chancey observed the freshman football team with hopeful eyes for the future.

The high-scoring Little Mountaineers, mentored by Quentin Barnette, averaged a 20-point winning margin en route to a 20-1 record. A 125 point production against Indiana State set a one game mark and boosted their 95.3 team average.

The plebe basketballers will contribute nine players to next season's varsity squad, eight on scholarship. An all-around performer, 6-3 Ron Williams, led the team with 31 points, 10 rebounds, and seven assists per game against the strongest schedule ever played by WVU freshmen. They have four others who should contend for starting positions as sophomores. Six-foot-six forward Dave Reaser averaged 16.9 points; defensive ace Norman Holmes, 11.8; and 6-4 corner man Letcher Humphries, 9.6. The lowest shooting percentage among these five was 46.7 percent and the lowest rebound average, six per game.

The group also will contribute four candidates for "spot" duty next season – centers Dick Penrod and Darryl Dillenback, guards Ed Harvard, and Lewis Hale. Dillenback led the team in field goal shooting with 58.7 percent, the only category not dominated by Williams, who combined with Holmes to average a startling 51 percent for the backcourt. Williams ranked only second to Rod Hundley (1954) in freshman scoring, 31.0 points per game to Hundley's 34.1. Hundley's team posted an 18-4 record, while those of Jerry West (1957) and Rod Thorn (1960) were unbeaten.

Voices raised — roar of the fans, shouts of the cheerleaders, reports from the Mountaineer's musket and a bark from his canine companion — capturing the spirit of West Virginia University and hurling it back into the air for all to hear. Witness to it all was a huge glass and metal edifice, the new Mountaineer Press Box. A veritable fountain of enthusiam — "Mountaineer Spirit" at the Stadium and in the Field House — a continuing tradition with the Gold-and-Blue.

Monticola's Top Eight Athletes for 1964-65

1. MILT CLEGG: An outstanding end who whirled to the finish with 22 receptions in the last three games. His total of 31 catches for 437 yards and four touchdowns make up one of the best pass-receiving records in Mountaineer history. He was elected outstanding lineman in the Liberty Bowl contest and chosen to compete in the East-West Shrine and Hula Bowl post-season contests.

2. BOB CAMP: Led the Mountaineers in all but one major statistic and elected honorary captain by his teammates. He was winner of the Roger (Shorty) Hicks award as the outstanding player of 1965 and was selected on the All-Southern Conference Tournament team. Camp scored 15.9 points per game and he also led the team in rebounds, free throws, and assists. He finished as the fourth best career free thrower in University history.

3. JERRY SPENCER: An all-around performer who has scored half of his team's points in three years. Captain of the team who won the Southern Championships, Spencer grabbed six first places and gained a total of 71 points in playoff competition against LSU. Called "one of the ten best gymnasts in the country" by his coach, Bill Bonsall.

4.,5. JACK WRITER AND DEAN BAHRMAN: All-American rifle shooters in 1964 and probable repeaters for the past season. Both averaged about 294 points (out of a possible 300) for new Mountaineer records. Captain Bahrman, a sophomore, and Writer, captain in 1964 as a sophomore, rank among the top rifle shooters in the nation.

6. MAURICE MOON: An all-around track performer who can score in five or six events. Winner of the Southern Conference indoor high jump championship as a sophomore with a 6-4 ¼ leap, Moon also placed second in the outdoor meet. He also excels in the broad jump and triple jump and has participated in dashes and the hurdle events.

7. RALPH (BUTCH) ROSSI: Co-captain of the soccer team as a junior, he was the outstanding performer on the twice-beaten team. He is second high scorer, but a valuable all-around performer who was termed by his coach, Sam Maurice, as an All-American candidate.

8. BILL MAROVIC: An All-American centerfielder, who led the 1964 team in almost every department. His .404 batting average was tops on the Southern Conference champion club and he ranked 14th in the nation. He also stole 27 bases for the second consecutive season to pace the NCAA. He had a total of 44 hits for a new conference record, scored 34 runs, and accounted for a total of 68 bases. Marovic appeared on the cover of the 1965 NCAA Baseball Guide, only the second Mountaineer honored by the NCAA (the other was Jerry West). He also was the first University baseball player named to a first team All-American berth.

Miss Monticola Pageant

From enchanting smiles, sparkling eyes, graceful forms, blondes, brunettes, and redheads, a beauty queen was chosen in the second annual "Miss Monticola Pageant." The finalists, each exquisite and each unique, were selected from a field of sixty contestants by John Robert Powers of the John Robert Powers Modeling Agency.

The finalists then went to Reynolds Hall to participate in an exciting pageant. The "M-C's," Kay and Joe Bob Goodwin, along with the Wine Cellar Singers helped provide part of the gala atmosphere. The contestants appeared in sports attire, suits, and evening gowns. They were observed by a panel of three judges who based their decision on beauty, poise, and appropriateness of costume. Sherry Meadows was selected second runner-up; first runner-up was Charl Dillow; and the coed chosen as "Miss Monticola of 1965" was Carolyn Smith.

We of the MONTICOLA staff are proud to present to you these campus beauties as representatives of the WVU yearbook. Wherever these young women may go, whatever they may do in future years, their presence will serve as an inspiration to others, and a twinkling star of elegance brightening the lives of all those around them.

Panhellenic Council

Panhellenic Council is composed of two representatives from each sorority on campus. Together with their advisor, Mrs. Mary Jane Schuster, they form the governing body for WVU's sororities. The Council formulates rush rules and policies and sees that they are carried out.

This year Panhellenic's main job was the organization of the initial deferred rush system on the campus. Although deferred rush was its major concern, the Council also branched out to form six committees which co-ordinated functions of Panhellenic: Rush, Scholarship, Cultural, Pledge Training, Social, and Public Relations.

Social life included their annual Women's Pan formal dance at the American Legion and the sponsorship of Greek Week in conjunction with the Interfraternity Council. The primary events during this week were the Olympic Games, a TGIF complete with Slave Auction, party-hopping, and Greek Leadership Conference.

"Who says we aren't grown up?"

Through the Scholarship Committee, study sessions for all interested freshman women were held at sorority houses, trophies were presented to the sororities with the highest and most improved scholastic averages, and a tea for all women students in professional fields was organized. Through the leadership of the Panhellenic pledge training chairman, all pledge trainers met and discussed the strong and weak features of their respective pledge training programs.

A Panhellenic Master Calendar and Bulletin Board are new features which publicize the cultural events at sorority houses and make known the speakers, topics, and dates. Approximately eight hundred dollars was donated to various charities this year. In March, the local group of Sigma Delta was reactivated as the national sorority of Sigma Delta Tau.

Sigma Delta Tau

High ideals and hard work manifest themselves in reward. Sigma Delta's reward was that of being reactivated from a local sorority to a national. March 2, 1965, marked the rebirth of Omicron Chapter of Sigma Delta Tau, which was originally founded on West Virginia University's campus in 1934.

In accordance with our standards and Sigma Delta Tau's traditions, the group engages in many philanthropic, social, and campus activities. Collecting gifts for patients of Weston State Mental Hospital (Operation Santa Clause), teas and receptions, a Spring Picnic, and listening parties are some of the sorority's activities. A great emphasis is placed on scholarship, and an award is given for the highest average.

Alpha Delta Pi

"To every girl there opens a high way and a low"

One hundred and fourteen years ago the first secret sisterhood for college women was founded at Macon, Georgia — Alpha Delta Pi. Alpha Upsilon Chapter came to WVU campus in 1924.

A selection written by Alpha Upsilon song leader, "Meddlin' Around with ADPi," won the girls the second place trophy in last year's Mother's Day Sing. Working with the Delts, the ADPi's captured third place with their Homecoming float, "We Put a Tiger in our Tank." Cars in the community shone after the ADPi car wash in October.

Campus activities found the girls of Alpha Delta Pi well represented. Leaders on campus who wear the diamond pin of ADPi include members of Mortar Board, Spokes, and Chimes, the President of Panhellenic Council, Co-Coordinator of Greek Week, and a Monticola editor. They are represented in Student Legislature, Orchesis, and R.O.T.C. sponsors, as well as having members on various steering committees. The girls are proud of their sister who is the vocalist for the Belcastro Trio, a professional jazz group.

Highlighting the ADPi's social calendar this year was an openhouse Christmas party at which their dates were sent on a scavenger hunt. Founder's Day and the Blue and White Formal are other social events of Alpha Delta Pi.

Alpha Phi

"Lovely girl, your pin of Alpha Phi"

In 1872, Alpha Phi Sorority was founded at Syracuse University and in 1930 Beta Iota Chapter came to the West Virginia University campus. The sisters of Alpha Phi emphasize service as evidenced by their active work at the Vincent Palotti Hospital.

Last spring the excited Alpha Phi's carried off the first place trophy in the Mother's Day Sing. Since then they have been busy with cultural events, a Halloween Hootenanny, their annual Christmas party, Founder's Day program, and a spring formal.

Alpha Phi's are active on campus as evidenced by members in Mortar Board, Chimes, and Li-toon-awa. The Homecoming Queen, Secretary of Panhellenic Council, Commander of R.O.T.C. Sponsors, and several members of Angel Flight also wear the pin of Alpha Phi.

Alpha Xi Delta

"Of Thee I Cherish"

Alpha Xi Delta, founded in 1873 at Lombard College, was the first national sorority to appear on the campus of West Virginia University. Always conscious of the true purpose of college life, the Alpha Xi's ranked first in scholarship both semesters of last year.

While maintaining good grades, the "Fuzzies" still find time to participate fully in campus activities. Last spring they placed third in the Mother's Day Sing and carried away the first place trophy in the Sphinx Talent Show this year with their variety act, "What's the Matter with Kids Today."

As evidence of Alpha Xi's campus participation, all four women's honoraries tapped members of this sorority. The Student Body Vice-President, Vice-President of Panhellenic Council, several members of Angel Flight, and a member of the National Executive Council of Sigma Alpha Eta all wear the quill as do several members of AWS Executive Council.

The Alpha Xi's pledged some honorary "Fuzzies" this year. All Alpha Xi dads here for Father's Weed-end received their official symbols of membership including a cotton blossom, the fuzziest flower that grows. Social events for the year included the Christmas Formal, the Rose Formal in the spring, and a surprise farewell party for the seniors.

Chi Omega

"Welcome to the XN Horseshoe"

Theta Chapter of Chi Omega came to West Virginia University in 1905 after being founded nationally in 1895. The school year got off to an exciting start when a 1964 graduate of Theta Chapter was named second runner-up to Miss America.

Chi O's were busy this year with their Fall and Spring Eleusinia for alumnae, Christmas caroling, big-little sister dinner, and their spring formal in April.

Honoraries tapped Chi Omegas for Mortar Board, Spokes, Chimes, and Li-toon-awa membership. The Vice-President of the Junior Class, Mountaineer Cover Girl, Sweetheart of Sigma Chi, and Panhellenic Rush Chairman are Chi O's.

Delta Delta Delta

"Tri Delta True"

Delta Delta Delta, the first women's fraternity to be founded as a national organization rather than growing from a local, was founded Thanksgiving Eve, 1888, at Boston University. Phi Iota Chapter came to West Virginia University in 1955. Nationally, this sorority has chosen education as its major philanthropy, with each collegiate chapter offering an annual Service Projects Scholarship. This scholarship is awarded to an outstanding undergraduate woman each spring in order to help her complete her education.

Chapter activities of the Tri Delts include an Apple Polishing Party to which each member brings her favorite instructor and presents him with an apple, other refreshments, and entertainment; a winter formal and spring picnic; dinners at alumnae's homes; and a Christmas Shocking Stocking party.

Tri Delts who are active on campus include the President of Mountainlair, Co-ordinator of Mountaineer Week-end, Social Chairman of Mountainlair, and members in Chimes, Li-toonawa, and Sigma Tau Sigma.

Delta Gamma

"Anchors Away DG"

In 1873 Delta Gamma was founded at Lewis University in Oxford, Mississippi. Alpha Xi Chapter came to West Virginia University in 1922. The girls on the hill have enjoyed a successful year starting with winning first place for their Homecoming float, "Recording Progress," which they built with the Phi Sigma Kappa's.

Campus leaders who wear the anchor include the President and Secretary of AWS, Vice-President of the Sophomore Class, President of Mortar Board, Secretary of Student Legislature, and members in Mortar Board, Spokes, Chimes, and Li-toon-awa.

The DG's place emphasis on their "Sight Conservation and Aid to the Blind" project in which they read weekly to a blind student. They are proud of their scholarship as evidenced by their second place rating among the sororities on campus.

In addition to trading anchors and doors with the Phi Sig's, social events this year included a Dad's Day Dinner, the annual Christmas party, spring formal, and an "Apple Polisher's Dinner."

Gamma Phi Beta

"Singing Gamma Phi Beta"

Gamma Phi's note with pride that the word "sorority" was coined for Gamma Phi Beta when it was founded at Syracuse University in 1874. Alpha Pi Chapter was first chartered at West Virginia University in 1930, but because of changing economic conditions the chapter was deactivated in 1938. In February of 1959, Alpha Pi Chapter was again reactivated at WVU.

Active on campus, the Gamma Phi's have members in Mortar Board, Dolphin, Intramurals, and the Mountainlair, and the Coordinator of Golddigger's Week-end was a Gamma Phi.

The girls were busy this year, capturing second place in the Homecoming Parade with the combined efforts of Alpha Gamma Rho and Kappa Sigma with their float entitled, "Floating Forward to a Jewel of a Victory." They also participated in the Sphinx Talent Show. Social events include a Founder's Day program, an annual Christmas party, and a spring Mardi Gras party. A highlight of the year was the Province Conference which was held here in April.

Kappa Delta

"Always think of KD when you hear this melody"

Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia, is the home of Kappa Delta and Beta Phi Chapter was established in 1951 at WVU. KD's are especially excited this year. In February – just in time for rush – they moved into their new home on Spruce Street. They had been busy before, however. In October they held a reception for Governor Mark Hatfield of Oregon, built a Homecoming float, and participated in cultural programs.

This year Kappa Delta was represented in Mortar Board, Spokes, and Chimes. KD actives on campus included the Secretary of Mountainlair, Co-ordinator of WUS, President of YWCA, and President of the American Dental Hygienist Student Association.

A KD's social life is never dull with the annual Christmas party, a scholarship dinner, initiation banquet, and Mr. Esquire Spring Formal. Mr. Esquire, who was selected from pinmates and fiancés, was presented with a top hat, white gloves, and a subscription to Esquire magazine.

One of the first sororities, Pi Beta Phi was founded nationally in 1867 at Monmouth, Illinois. In 1918 Pi Phi was brought to the campus of West Virginia University.

This year the Pi Phi's participated in the Sphinx Talent Show and the Homecoming parade. At Christmastime, they entertained several area children with a party and gifts. In the spring they upheld their new tradition of the annual picnic. Pi Phi's also enjoyed informal talks by professors, cookie shines, and listening parties.

Campus leaders who wear the arrow of Pi Beta Phi include the Vice-President of the Senior Class, President of Spokes, Editor of the Monticola, Treasurers of AWS and Panhellenic Council, and members of Spokes, Chimes, Li-toon-awa, Student Legislature, and Angel Flight.

Not only does every Pi Phi chapter contribute to the national altruistic project at Gatlinburg, Tennessee, but this year the West Virginia chapter instituted the support of an American Indian orphan.

Interfraternity Council

Two representatives from each of the eighteen social fraternities on campus constitute WVU's Interfraternity Council. The goal of IFC is to encourage both high scholarship and gentlemanly conduct among Greek men. These representatives have the responsibility of co-ordinating the activities of the fraternity system and passing any legislation that the individual fraternities feel is necessary. They meet on Monday evenings in the College of Law with their advisor, Mr. Gordon Thorn. This year the council has been concerned particularly with the initial deferred rush system.

In conjunction with Panhellenic, IFC sponsors Greek Week and the Greek Leadership Conference. During this week, members from the fraternal groups take part in discussions, the Olympic Games, a Greek TGIF, and Men's Pan formal dance. At the conclusion of Greek Week, the Men's Pan Queen is selected from candidates nominated by the fraternities. IFC also contributes to the Student Loan Fund and sponsors service projects.

"In Delta Hall"

Delta Tau Delta was founded nationally in 1858. It was chartered as Delta Chapter at Monongalia Academy in 1860, but went inactive because of the Civil War. This chapter was reactivated as Gamma Delta in 1900.

The Wine Cellar Singers, four brothers who sing folk songs, captured the first place trophy in the Sphinx Talent Show, making the victory the second year in a row for the Delts. In October, the Delts and the ADPi's working together placed third in the Homecoming float competition. In intramural activity they competed in cross-country and tennis. Gamma Delta Chapter is proud of their scholarship trophies they have been awarded by their National in the past two years.

Campus leaders include the Junior Class President, President of Fi Batar Cappar, Vice-President of IFC, Co-Captain of the Mountaineer football team, and the Co-ordinators of Homecoming, Greater West Virginia Weekend, and the Cultural Committee.

Social life is never dull at the Delt house. Their schedule includes the Christmas and Spring Formals, their "Sewer Party," "Western Party," and the "Shipwreck Party."

Kappa Alpha

"Oh, I wish I was in the land of cotton"

Kappa Alpha Order was founded December 21, 1865, at Washington and Lee University in Lexington, Virginia. Alpha Rho Chapter of Kappa Alpha Order was chartered at West Virginia University in 1897. Robert E. Lee is the spiritual founder of the Order.

The Rebels participated in the Sphinx Talent Show and were active in intramurals. Active in campus politics, the President and Treasurer of the Student Body are KA's as is the Chairman of the All-Campus Party. Other brothers are active in Helvetia and Order of the Grail.

Old South Weekend climaxes the KA's social calendar. With a boom of their cannon, the Rebels "secede from the Union" to enjoy picnics, parties, and the Old South Ball. Theme parties include "Suppressed Desire," "Roaring Twenties," and "Barn" parties. Their Black and White Formal is an annual January event.

Kappa Sigma

"We're loyal and true and our voices we raise"

Kappa Sigma was organized in 1400 at the University of Bologna in Italy. Gamma Phi Chapter was chartered at West Virginia University in May, 1918, after Kappa Sigma's national founding at the University of Virginia in 1869. This year WVU's Kappa Sigs took an active part in University functions and carried home a trophy for their winning Homecoming float which they built with Gamma Phi Beta and Alpha Gamma Rho. Kappa Sigs this year had members in several campus organizations, such as Fi Batar Cappar and the University soccer team. The Secretary of IFC is a Kappa Sig.

The "Suppressed Desire," "Bar and Grill," Halloween, Christmas, and "Prehistoric" parties give the Brothers good opportunities for dancing and bridge-playing with their dates. In April, informal "partying" is overcome by the Star and Crescent Formal, a happy ending for the social season.

Lambda Chi Alpha

"Forward we march with every man a man"

Lambda Chi Alpha was founded on November 2, 1909, at Boston University, Boston, Massachusetts. It is one of the largest national fraternities with 153 chapters in the United States and Canada. The Mountaineer Chapter was founded in 1953, making it the youngest fraternity on campus.

The men on Belmar Avenue were proud of the second place trophy they won this year in the Sphinx Talent Show with their rendition of the United Nations. They also captured first place in the intramurals relay.

A musically-inclined fraternity, the head twirler, President and Secretary of the Mountaineer Band are Lambda Chi's. Other campus leaders include the Vice-President of Phi Mu Alpha, Secretary and Treasurer of Kappa Kappa Psi, and members of Sigma Tau Sigma and Alpha Phi Omega. Not to be surpassed in athletics, other members are on the varsity wrestling, soccer, and swimming teams.

Highlighting the social calendar of Lambda Chi Alpha is their Crescent Formal where their Crescent Queen is selected and entered into international competition.

Phi Delta Theta

"Singing a' Phi Delta Theta"

For the Phi Delts on top of the hill, the start of another year at the University means the start of another successful journey aboard the Good Ship Phi. Their Anchor Room is the favorite spot for fraternity singing and parties. Throughout the year they had a "Pirate," "Caveman," "Playboy," and "Roaring 20's" parties. The big event in the spring is Miami Triad.

The national fraternity was established on December 26, 1843, at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, and the West Virginia Alpha Chapter of Phi Delta Theta was founded in 1927. At the present time, this chapter is working towards building a new house.

Phi Delts are active on campus as evidenced by members in Helvetia, Sigma Tau Sigma, Student Legislature, Mountain, Sphinx, and Fi Batar Cappar. The President of the Senior Class is a Phi Delta Theta. Each year Phi Delta Theta awards "The Shorty Hicks Trophy" to the outstanding varsity basketball player.

Phi Kappa Psi

"Onward, marching onward, sons of Phi Psi singing a song"

The Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity was founded on February 19, 1852, by Charles P. T. Moore and William Letterman at Jefferson College in Canonsburg, Pennsylvania. The West Virginia Alpha Chapter, founded on May 23, 1890, was the first permanent fraternity established at West Virginia University. More than 1000 members will have been initiated in the W. Va. Alpha Chapter by the end of this seventy-fifth anniversary year, and more and more alumni will leave to take their places in society. The Phi Psi's are especially proud of the fact that at the National Convention in August, 1964, West Virginia Alpha was first in a rating of all Phi Kappa Psi chapters.

The social calendar includes the Christmas party, a spring formal, and costume parties. Indicative of their high scholarship and leadership, the Phi Psi's this year have members in Mountain, Sphinx, Order of the Grail, Fi Batar Cappar, Helvetia, and Sigma Tau Sigma.

The James Cochran House overlooks the entire WVU campus and is famous for its Memorial Chapel which honors brothers who fought and died in four American wars.

Phi Kappa Sigma

"The maltese cross above all emblems gleans like stars of old"

Alpha Gamma Chapter of Phi Kappa Sigma Fraternity came to West Virginia University in 1896 after its national founding on August 16, 1850. The national fraternity offers scholarship improvement awards and the local chapter provides a scholarship to the pledge with the highest average.

Last spring the Phi Kaps raced their iron chariot across the finish line for first place in the Olympic games of Greek Week. Theme parties included such affairs as "Dante's Inferno" party and a "Halloween Skull" party in addition to their Christmas party. Each spring the Mountaineer Phi Kaps have their annual Black and Gold Formal and several "discothèque" parties.

Over the Christmas break six men were initiated into the local chapter by their national officers during their national convention in Chicago. Well represented in campus politics, the Phi Kaps had two men in Student Legislature, one of whom was elected Parliamentarian. Phi Kappa Sigmas were represented in Fi Batar Cappar, Scabbard and Blade, and the University Debate Team.

Phi Sigma Delta

"Oh, the Phi Sigs will win in the end"

Upsilon Chapter of Phi Sigma Delta has long had a tradition of combining high scholastic attainment with fine social activity. Founded on the West Virginia University campus in 1927, the Phi Sigma Deltas use brotherhood as their theme for success.

The men on Spruce Street are proud of receiving the Scholarship Improvement Trophy from the Inter-Fraternity Council. The 2.52 house average was achieved by quiet hours and a study atmosphere that was enforced. During the week the men of Upsilon Chapter study — study — study, but on the weekend they play — play — play. The annual Thanksgiving Affair and May Formal, in addition to the usual "Funeral" and "Suppressed Desire" combo parties are on the Phi Sigma Delta social calendar.

Despite the fine scholastic standing and the busy social program, the P.S.D.'s find time to be active participants in campus activities and represent themselves well in intramurals. Phi Sigma Deltas on campus include members in Helvetia, Sphinx, Order of the Grail, Mountain, Sigma Tau Sigma, Phi Alpha Theta, the Monticola staff, and University Debate Team.

Add scholarship, social planning, and fine activities to get Phi Sigma Delta and the brotherhood of Upsilon Chapter.

Phi Sigma Kappa

"Let's drink a toast unto our host"

Phi Sigma Kappa was founded in 1873 at the University of Massachusetts. In March of 1881, Delta Chapter of Phi Sigma Kappa was chartered at WVU and has grown into one of the largest fraternities on our campus.

Hard work was rewarded as the Phi Sigs and DG's placed first in the Homecoming float competition. Consistently among the top in intramurals, the Phi Sigs are striving to stay high in the standings. Campus leaders include members in Sphinx, Student Legislature, Helvetia, and Fi Batar Cappar.

The Phi Sig social calendar this year included a "Viking Party," a "Hellzapoppin' Party," a "Roaring Twenties Party," and many combo parties. Highlighting their social activities was the Moonlight Formal in May.

Pi Kappa Alpha

"All hail to Pi Kappa Alpha"

Pi Kappa Alpha was founded at the University of Virginia in 1868 and Alpha Theta Chapter was chartered on our campus in 1904. Pi Kappa Alpha has become the national fraternity with firetrucks, and this chapter is the owner of a 1930 American La France truck which is displayed at athletic events, campus elections, and celebrations.

The Pikes were elated to learn that they will have a new house by next fall. The ground-breaking ceremony was in May as actives, alumni, and pledges looked on. This year the Pikes decorated their house for Mountaineer Weekend and participated in the Mother's Day Sing. Pikes are proud that they have finished among the top four in intramurals for the past four years.

Active in campus organizations, the Pikes claim members in Helvetia, Order of the Grail, Student Legislature, and Sphinx. Brothers also served as Freshman Guides and on the Mountaineer Week Team. Other campus leaders from Pi Kappa Alpha include the President of Sigma Tau Sigma, Master of the Mother's Day Sing, Treasurer of IFC, and Chairman of the Student Party.

Social events include the Pledge Hop, "Showboat" party, and several combo parties. Culminating the social season was the Dream Girl Formal in the spring.

Sigma Chi

"The Sigs are marching"

In 1895, Mu Mu Chapter became the 70th chapter of one of the largest college fraternities, Sigma Chi. The "Sig" Chapter makes its home in a recently completed $250,000 house at the top of "Fraternity Row."

The Chapter won the 1964 Sigma Chi Province Scholarship Award, but it's "not all work and no play" for the Sigs. The social calendar is filled with open houses, buffets, and cocktail, listening, and combo parties. Last year the Sigma Chi's had a "Sadie Hawkins," "Monster," "Suppressed Desire," Mardi Gras, and "Harem" parties. The famous fraternity song, "The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi," takes on full meaning when the chapter sweetheart is crowned at the annual Christmas Sweetheart Formal. Mu Mu Chapter also participates in the Miami Triad weekend in the spring.

Campus leaders who are Sigma Chi's include the President of Inter-fraternity Council, members in Mountain and Sphinx, Student Government officers, and Fi Batar Cappar. Sigs also served on Mountaineer and Homecoming Weekend steering committees.

Sigma Nu

"March to the top 'cause you're marching for Sigma Nu"

In 1869 Sigma Nu fraternity was founded at Virginia Military Institute, Lexington, Virginia, and the WVU chapter was established in 1904. The elated brothers carried off the first place trophy in the Mother's Day Sing last spring for the third consecutive year. In addition, their booth won first place in the Spring Spree Carnival and the Sigma Nu's were the first winner of the Greek Week Olympics. This year they have again been busy participating in many intramural events.

Sigma Nu's find time to be active on campus. Members include the Emperor and Scribe of Sphinx, members in Mountain, Sphinx, and Student Legislature, the head Drum Major of the Mountaineer Band, and President of Beta Gamma Sigma.

Highlights of the social calendar include the annual Christmas Formal, "Roman" party, and the White Rose Formal Weekend in May.

Tau Kappa Epsilon

"All hail to our fraternity"

The largest fraternity in number of chapters, Tau Kappa Epsilon, was founded at Illinois Wesleyan in 1899. Rho Chapter at West Virginia University became the seventeenth chapter in 1923.

Tekes take an active part in intramural sports as well as participating in the Sphinx Talent Show and other major weekends on campus. Social life includes such events as the annual "Barn Party," Christmas Formal, Valentine Ball, and the "Bowery Ball" during Greek Week. Concluding the social calendar is the annual Red Carnation Formal in May.

Tekes find time to be active on campus as shown by their members in Student Legislature, University Choir, Sigma Tau Sigma, Alpha Epsilon Delta, and Sphinx. Tau Kappa Epsilon also claims this year WVU's Mountaineer who is seen at all major athletic events.

Theta Chi

"It is to thee, dear old Theta Chi"

From its founding in 1856, Theta Chi has spread throughout the land to include 135 active chapters. On our campus, Alpha Kappa Chapter of Theta Chi was introduced in 1921.

Theta Chi's have participated in all campus activities, such as intramurals, Homecoming, and the Christmas Sing. This year, in accordance with Theta Chi's National program, this chapter is placing emphasis on scholarship and the "reaps of the harvest" are exemplified by the 2.8 or better average attained by two-thirds of their men. Theta Chi social events this year were open houses, their Christmas party, and the Dream Girl Formal in the spring.

Theta Chi has launched an extensive interior remodeling program and along with such material advancement, the bonds of Theta Chi brotherhood grow stronger each day.

Graduation

The usual excitement which is associated with graduation flourished for the ninety-sixth commencement of West Virginia University, held on May 31, 1965. The morning was clear and sunny when the graduates of the various colleges gathered to begin their procession to the Field House. Dr. Clyde N. English was the organist and The Rev. Robert M. Henry, Presbyterian University Pastor, gave the invocation. Our own University President Paul Ausborn Miller spoke on "Our Untidy Society" for the commencement address. Four honorary degrees were awarded and two presentations of the Order of Vandalia were given, one of these to the first woman ever to receive this award. The Order of Vandalia is presented to those people, not always alumni, who have given particularly outstanding service to the University. Pride and happiness showed on the many faces of the people who were responsible for these graduates receiving their education. As Alfred North Whitehead once said, "Once learning solidifies, all is over with it." Some graduates will now enter business, but many will go on for further degrees. As West Virginia University is proud of her graduates, may her graduates be ever loyal to her in return!

"I'VE THE RIGHT TO PLAN MY OWN LIFE, TO EARN A LIVING AS I SEE FIT."

" . . . I'm limited, of course, by my ability and determination. But, overall, I call the shots. I'll be paid according to what I contribute, too. If I'm valuable, I'll earn more; if lazy, less. But there's always the thought of working up. That's because I live in a Free Enterprise economy where I have freedom of choice and opportunity."

EDITOR'S PAGE

The publication of a college yearbook carries with it frustrations as well as satisfactions. Delays and complications are nerve-wracking, but to see the many pages of copy finally fall into a systematic depiction of college life creates euphoria.

This year's MONTICOLA presents fuller coverage of spring events than usual, but in order to include pictures of pledges from deferred fraternity and sorority rush, publication has been delayed.

As editor, I would like to acknowledge the following people and organizations who have made possible the 1965 MONTICOLA:

The staff of the 1965 MONTICOLA.

Irving Lloyd who took the pictures in The University Section.

Mr. Victor Haines who took the pictures in the Administration Section.

WVU's Athletic Department for the team pictures.

Mantini's Studio who took the pictures in the Royalty Section.

Vantine Studio who took the portraits in the Greeks and Classes Sections.

Nat Saffel who took the pictures other than those mentioned above.

Mr. Joseph C. Gluck and Mr. James V. Watkins, for their help, concern, and encouragement.

Mr. Verne Foster and all persons of the American Yearbook Company who helped in any way in the publication of the 1965 MONTICOLA.

About the cover:

The cover design combines the past and present of West Virginia University.

The oval seal is the only remaining seal of the former Monongalia Academy, whose buildings have since been taken over by West Virginia University. It is the seal of the Columbian Literary Society, one of the two literary societies of the Academy.

The rippled edged seal is the seal of West Virginia University.
